

Eight legged Doug

I was born in a small town called Trollhättan
This is what happened in Trollhättan in 1963
The town was haunted by a creature sneaking in the night
Stealing food and clothes from garbage cans
People who had known this guy said his name was Doug
Eight legged Doug

Doug was living in a shed on Elk mountain
His parents had thrown him out when he was ten years old
This may sound like normal for a country like Sweden but Doug was crying oceans and he wanted to come home
But instead he got a new leg every year until he was
Eight legged Doug

The Garbage Queen was famous for her shiny garbage can Smelling clean and looking good in the suburb
She didn't want this eight legged freak to sneak around her house
So she made a trap to catch him if he'd come to steal
The trap was meant to kill him by shooting off his head
Eight legged Doug

Sometimes the bridge over the river failed to go down
This is why the garbage collectors were late that night
The Garbage Queen was sleeping when she woke up by the bang
Then she knew her trap was working and she felt safe
She looked out through her window to make sure the freak was dead
But her trap had killed a garbage man instead
If legs were made of money, then Douglas would be rich
Eight legged Doug

If legs were made of money, then Douglas would be rich
Eight legged Doug

Copyright Per Bronco Karlsson. All rights reserved.

www.perbroncokarlsson.com