

Celebration

She was talking to the water and the world was real to her An angel on her shoulder
she was with her family

They were living in a house on a street where everyone was known by name and no one was ashamed to be alive

Don't know where you are
Forgive me for giving you birth
Please come home and share my world
You will die where you are

Tomorrow is your birthday
and I have something for you
Please come home tomorrow
We'd love to celebrate with you

Universal silence
Breathing atmosphere
Suns are shining bright
Love is anywhere

Sky is green
Angels fly above
She's not alone
This is the best world she's ever known

Don't know where you are
Forgive me for giving you birth
Please come home and share my world

You will die where you are

Tomorrow is your birthday
and I have something for you
Please come home tomorrow
We´d love to celebrate with you
